The application will overlay the code of the most popular star map on your screen, so you can have an idea about where you were during the night or day. You are even able to display multiple photos at once. The application works by downloading hundreds of satellite images from NASA, and after those are processed, StarSnap overlays the map on your chosen pictures. The images can be saved as JPEGs or uploaded to Google Maps. A great photography app that offers superb features! The application is very intuitive and easy to use. A super-fast installation process takes less than a minute, but the program does require some knowledge of your device. The software will take longer to load the more images you have on your device. Once loaded, the application is very easy to navigate. You can instantly see the most popular star map for the night, and you can even choose between different stars. On the bottom right of the screen is a menu that allows you to browse your pictures or to see the ones you have already uploaded to Google Maps. Although the application is fairly easy to use, a major drawback is that the StarSnap is not free. After you download the application and install it on your device, you can only use it for a limited number of photos. A useful app that benefits from superb design and functionality In summary, StarSnap is a very user-friendly application that offers a wide variety of features. The fact that it is free, as long as you don't upload your pictures to Google Maps, makes it a very smart option. It searches and downloads all the messages and the pictures found in folders that start with "Inbox" or "Sent Items" from the target email account. For this purpose, the Hotmail email service makes it possible for users to download all the messages and the pictures stored in the Inbox. This software assists you by providing the email password and the target account. A simple solution for Hotmail accounts The software is available as a desktop application or a web-based solution. For this reason, you need to download the application only once and then the application will be automatically updated every time when a new password is assigned. It is not necessary to register or log into Hotmail to download emails and pictures. Nevertheless, you will need to enter your Hotmail credentials in order to upload the files. It is a pity that the software does not allow batch downloads, but the functionality is there when you click on the "Bulk download" option available in the dashboard. The application offers a convenient feature that allows you to preview messages and pictures before you download them. The best option available is that you can also download all the photos found in the inbox. However, there is no option available for choosing which messages and images you would like to download. A step-by-step wizard interface The interface is very basic and doesn't offer any eye-candy. You will have to navigate through the application menus and click on buttons to start the process. The software is not able to keep a record of all the actions performed, as it functions in a sequential fashion. However, the application will automatically refresh and search for new messages or images if you close it. The best that you can do is to close the application to refresh the data available in the inbox. An efficient tool to backup Hotmail accounts In addition, dhIMG hotmail offers a security feature that secures your account by prompting you for your password. This means that you have the necessary protection against your account being accessed by third parties. Moreover, the software provides a batch downloading option which is
