I'm loading my movieclips from a directory. In fact they are blank for now. After loading them, I want to add them to the stage. [button] .. -> extends MovieClip .. -> include "folder_name/actor.as" .. When I run my "FlashBuilder" project, it is saying: 1163: Access of undefined property at line 1070. 1070: var actor:mc; If I load them with the load fla code it works but not in "flashbuilder" What can I do? A: include "folder_name/actor.as" The variable actor is not scoped to the class in which you use include.

The include is only processed in the current class. It can be processed multiple times per instance. As a consequence, it's local. The scope of the include is limited to its containing class. You need to use the constructor to make the include compile time constant, which will prevent the build compiler from complaining. import mx.graphics.MovieClip; public class Main extends MovieClip { public function Main() { var mxArray:Array = [6d1f23a050
