The truck accommodates a full bed and includes a trash-can carrier, reinforced cargo floor and a dash that was inspired by a car. That'll be a big change to the way you move stuff around town with your electric vehicle, but the company says "the truck is meant to compete with the pedal bicycle for short and medium distance jobs." The truck connects to your car via a smart plug, and you can pack the device with any amount of groceries, tennis balls or swiffer dusters. It's meant to be mobile, and it will be able to travel about 60 miles at a time on a single charge.

Selective depletion of immunoglobulins G, M and A, and complement components C3 and C5 in the rabbit. Rabbits were treated with a monoclonal immunoglobulin G, anti-IgG plus anti-IgM, or anti-IgG plus anti-IgA, or anti-IgM plus anti-IgA-immunotoxins. Immunoglobulins G, M and A were selectively depleted from serum, whereas complement components C3 and C5 were completely depleted. These treatments allowed us to investigate the in vivo roles of immunoglobulins and complement components.
